757 Collab Founder Community Continues to Grow

NORFOLK, Va. (January 2025) – 757 Startup Studios is proud to announce 17 new startups joining the 757 Collab founder community. These entrepreneurs, hailing from across Hampton Roads, represent a wide range of industries and will spend the next six months growing and validating their businesses at the Assembly innovation campus in Downtown Norfolk.

Since launching in 2021, 757 Startup Studios has supported over 180 startups, helping them secure more than $30M in capital, creating hundreds of jobs, and launching dozens of new products.

“Over 90% of the startups in our Fall ‘24 cohort have under-recognized founders, and we’re committed to doing everyone in our power to continue to break down barriers so anyone can find the resources and community to validate their idea,” said Hunter Walsh, Director of 757 Startup Studios. “These founders are building diverse, disruptive companies, and we’re here to help them scale.”

Each startup receives access to a comprehensive suite of resources, including rent-free office space, customized programming, mentorship, expert office hours, workshops, and more. Additionally, the Assembly innovation campus offers cutting-edge amenities designed to foster collaboration and growth.

“757 Startup Studios continues to enhance its offerings to better support entrepreneurs throughout Hampton Roads and serve as a front door to all,” said Paul Nolde, Managing Director of 757 Collab. “By fueling these bold, early-stage ventures, we’re helping to shape the future of the region and beyond.”
